For a sustainable, just and equitable recovery

July 12 - 13, 2022
Bogota, Colombia

The Ministry of Labor of Colombia, jointly with the Inter-American Network for Labor Administration (RIAL) of the Organization of American States (OAS), warmly welcomes all participants and is pleased to share the following logistical information for the appropriate development of the event, during your stay in the city of Bogota on Tuesday, July 12 and Wednesday, July 13.

- For international visitors: Check-Mig form to enter the country

By order of the Colombian authorities, all travelers, nationals, or foreigners who wish to enter or leave Colombia must fill out the online pre-registration form of Migración Colombia with the information about their trip. Things to consider:

However, if you do not know the city of Bogota, it is strongly recommended to use only authorized taxis. At the airport exit, there is a special point for taxis which has duly identified people who can guide you.
- Taxis in Bogota use an electronic control (taximeter) to determine the cost of the trip. There is a surcharge for leaving the airport and an additional cost for weekends and night hours.
- Upon arrival at the hotel, the participants will be informed about the exact location where the activities of the event will take place. Likewise, the hotel staff will help you check into the hotel if this is the case.
- All activities will start at the time established according to the agenda.
- Attendance and permanence in each activity of the event will ensure the success of the workshop objective.

• Food

- Lunch is covered for all participants on both days of the event and will be served at the time set by the agenda, at the Dann Carlton restaurant.
- Also, there will be refreshments and a coffee station during the days of the event.

Some suggestions of places to dine (at the expense of each participant):

- Parque de la 93 (about 3 km from the Dann Carlton Hotel), is a flagship tourist park of the city in which a wide variety of bars, restaurants, and cafes are grouped around it; and it is also the scene of cultural and recreational events.
- About 4 km from the Dann Carlton Hotel is the Centro Comercial Andino, and around it, there are several cafes, bars and nightclubs, which are part of the so-called "Zona T" o zona rosa in Bogota, where you can also find haute cuisine restaurants and designer shops or large international brands.

• Dress code of the event

Casual-formal (Business casual).

• Currency exchange

Representative rate of the Dollar: $1 USD = $ 4.250 COP approx. (as of July 5)

The Bogota Airport has different exchange houses where you can exchange currency if required.

Bogota is the capital and largest city of Colombia. It is a point of convergence for people from all over the country, so it is diverse and multicultural, combining the old and the modern.

Few cities have a landscape like the one Bogotanos enjoy daily when their gaze is lost in that kind of green sea that forms the Cordillera de Los Andes, the mountains that rise above the east. Bogota is a green city thanks to its many parks and the eastern hills with the Montserrat sanctuary at the top.

When visiting the city, you can marvel at the charm of its architecture. In Bogota, you will find how different styles are mixed, from modern buildings to the facades of old houses that are authentic colonial treasures. Thanks to this fusion between past and present, in the capital you will find an ideal destination with history, fun, gastronomy, culture, business and much more.

- Weather

The weather in Bogota has a lot to do with its strategic location. Having a height of 2,600 meters and being surrounded by mountains, the temperature during the day is mild with an average of 19 °C, dropping a little at night.

Rain is expected for the week of the event, so we suggest bringing warm/waterproof clothing.
