National Commission for the Eradication of Child Labor
Ages of national public policy related to prevention and eradication of child labor and protection of adolescent labor

1. Creation of CONAETI
2. Decentralization of public policy
3. Public-private articulation
National Commission for the Eradication of Child Labor - CONAETI

Memorandum between ILO and Ministry of Labor, Employment and Social Security (MTEySS)

Creation of CONAETI Dec. 719/01

CONAETI in full action

Decentralization 1st level: provincial

Decentralization 2nd level: municipal

Institutionalization of public-private articulation
National Commission for the Eradication of Child Labor- CONAETI

1st Axis: Creation of CONAETI

- Tripartite commission: governmental sector, business sector and union sector
- Counseling from international organizations: ILO and UNICEF
- National Plan for Prevention and Eradication of Child Labor 2006 - 2010
National Commission for the Eradication of Child Labor- CONAETI

2\textsuperscript{nd} Axis: Decentralization of Public Policy

- 1\textsuperscript{st} level: provincial
- 2\textsuperscript{nd} level: municipal

Framework Convention among Ministry of Labor, Employment and Social Security (MTEySS), CONAETI and Federal Labor Council (CFT): coordination of actions and bases for the creation of provincial commissions

Establish and execute national policy with a strategy aimed at effectively preventing and eradicating child labor, so as to create the necessary conditions to achieve social inclusion and protection.
“All economic activity and/or survival strategy, remunerated or not, carried out by children below the minimum working or employment age, or who have not yet completed mandatory schooling or who are not 18 years old, is considered hazardous work.”
3rd Axis: Public-private articulation
Enterprise Network against Child Labor

A public-private alliance committed to the management of public policies of prevention and eradication of child labor and protection of adolescent labor, by which the private sector, through its policies of Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR), integrates itself in the public policy of the issue, in order to offer joint solutions to this social problem.

Formally constituted in June 2007 with a signed agreement. Currently it is made up of nearly 100 leading enterprises. It is presided by CONAETI and receives counseling from the ILO and UNICEF.

Objectives of the Enterprise Network

➢ Create awareness within its value chain (suppliers and clients) about the negative consequences of child labor.

➢ Revise its value chain to eliminate child labor contracting and to respect the norms of adolescent labor contracting.
Final Reflections:

- Process of articulation of distinct social actors involved in the subject area
- Gathering of local information prior to on-site intervention
- Institutionalization and strengthening of strategic alliances
With greater social inclusion we achieve more children in school and more parents with decent work.

Let’s build a country without child labor
National Commission for the Eradication of Child Labor
Av. Leandro N. Alem 628, 5th floor, Ciudad Autónoma de Buenos Aires
54-011-4310-5814/6362
conaeti@trabajo.gob.ar